BIG CLEARANCE SALE.

A Big Saving to Consumers on Every Bill Bought of us.

After all, at every turn in the road of life there is scarcely anything so fascinating as "price." "Price" has almost all to do with everything. That is why we make it such a strong feature in the conduct of our business. That is why it is considered here first last and all the time. If we didn't make fascinating prices, we wouldn't do the immense volume of business we now enjoy, and if we didn't continue to beat all other houses in this section, right through our lines we wouldn't have so many new customers from a distance to come to see us. To those who have not yet traded with us we would say it isn't a matter of life and death to make an experiment. You may be skeptical about our grand stock and bargains, you may be slow to change from one house to another, yet you also may like to increase your savings and thereby make money. Come to see us and we will show you what the saving amounts to on Dry Goods, Notions, Shoes, Clothing, Furnishing Goods and Hats.

Bro. Barnes Joins Church.

The Stanford Journal says: "Mrs. Welch has received a letter from Rev. George O. Barnes stating that he and his wife celebrated July 30th, the anniversary of their marriage, by joining Dowie's Zion Christian Catholic Church."

I have entered other business, and needed money. I have sold to G. B. Swinebroad a number of outstanding grocery accounts I held. My books had to be closed and the business wound up, so I trust no one will take offense at my action.

G. S. Gaines.

Teachers Institute.

The Teachers Institute is in session at the Court House this week, and a great many of the wielders of the peacock are in attendance. Prof. Cherry, of Bowling Green, is conducting the institute and the teachers are delighted with him. The Record will give a full report of the meeting in next issue.

Circuit Court Monday.

The August term of the Garrard circuit court begins a three weeks session Monday. Clerk Hamilton gives us the following: New Commonwealth cases 55; old same, 12; old common law, 13; common law appearances, 32; old equity cases, 53; equity appearances, 16. It is thought that not more than two weeks time will be consumed in clearing the dockets.

An Interesting Revival.

An unusually interesting revival is being conducted at the Christian church, by Elder Robertson, of Illinois. The house is well filled at each service, and several have united with the church. Elder Robertson is an exceptionally good preacher, and is doing splendid work in the church. The music is quite a feature of the meetings.

For Sale, Stock of Goods.

I have a good, clean stock of goods of about $2,000, and the best stand in the county to sell goods. I will sell my stock, and the store room can be rented reasonably. This is one of the best openings for a man to sell goods that I know of. It is five miles from the nearest store and 14 miles to the nearest town. Will sell or exchange for a good farm. Call, or address Mrs. K. M. Scott, Beuna Vista, Ky.

"He's That NEW Man."

Ex-Landlord Fissinger, who was booked for "a return engagement" in Lancaster, failed to show up. Fissinger's sojourn in Lancaster was only another of the thousand similar cases of our people's ungovernable desire to take up every carpet-bagger that comes along and feed him on the fat of the land. The stranger is wined and dined, while home people can feed on the husks. The RECORD dislikes very much to speak of this, but we are glad to say it is about the only short-coming of which Lancaster people can be accused. When we learn to pull together, and stand up for home men, who are enterprising, and quit pricking up our ears when we see "that NEW man" come along, then we will have a town second to none in the state. The right sort of strangers, who present proper credentials, should be given the glad hand, but to hedges with this taking off hats to every yahoo that comes in to show us how to run the town in which we were born and raised.

W. J. ROMANS.

Several electrical storms have visited this section this week.

Home-grown watermelons are plentiful. Several wagon loads are on the streets every day.

If you are in need of furniture go to J. A. Beazley's where you can get the best goods for the least money.

The Garrard Hotel is being thoroughly cleaned from cellar to garret. A force of scrub women have been at work there all the week.

Delightful Place.

Those who have visited Crab Orchard Springs this season are delighted with the fare and surroundings. The place is not run as most summer resorts, that is they do not put on all style and keep up a continual hubbub, better known as "the gay whirl of society." It's quiet, cool and pleasant up there, and people who want to rest, and at the same time receive the benefits of the best waters to be found, can find no better place to go.

Capt. Boone's Cane.

Danville Advocate.—Capt. Samuel Boone, the "Old Pioneer," who is in Danville on a visit, is somewhat of a crank about walking sticks. His latest is one that he values highly. He cut it from the famous field of the Battle of Seven Pines, where Lee and McClellan fought and lost 15,000 men, killed. The cane is a white hickory, the roots of which, in the words of the Captain, "were bathed in the best blood of the grandest country in the world."

Card of Thanks.

To Whom it May Concern: I desire that you publicly, the order of Macabees for kind assistance and sympathy during the recent sickness of my husband which terminated in death, and I am thankful to the Giver of All Blessings that my husband had his life insured in the order of Macabees, and that I have received promptly $2,000 from said order, this being the full amount of said insurance policy. My prayers shall be that the Macabees shall live forever to bless widows and orphans. Very respectfully,

Mrs. ANNA B. SINGLETON.

Draft was received twelve days after proof of death was mailed. J. Joseph, R. K. Lancaster Tent, No. 15. This order is twenty years old, has paid $14,000,000 benefits, and has 450,000 members, growing at the rate of 30,000 per year, with an emergency fund of nearly a million dollars. It furnishes protection at actual cost, avoiding the heavy expense element ad the legal reserve element.

Dopey Friends Thick.

It is said that fifty per cent. of the negroes on Battle Row are addicted to the use of cocaine and great quantities of the drug are sold. It is cheaper than whisky or morphine, and, as one user said, "It simply carries me to heaven, and there's no bad feeling when I wake up from the dream."

Will give my personal attention to the business and am sure you will be pleased when trading with me. Cash paid for all kinds of produce, hides, etc. Give me a call.

aug-9th T. S. ELKIN.

They'll Cherish His Memory.

"And, is it true that 'Old Crow' is dead? Died at Lancaster Monday last week. A friend of early days, whose ready wit and genuine nature bound to him so many chums who will sincerely sorrow that Jim Dillon is no more. Will 'Uncle' Frank or Daws please drop a flower upon that new grave for Seph?"

Thus writes editor Seph Campbell, in the Somerset Journal. In compliance with his request, Capt. White and Judge M. D. Hughes will visit the Lancaster Cemetery next Sunday afternoon and place flowers upon the grave of their dead friend.

Blue Grass Prognosticator.

"Prof. Asa K. Martin, the weather prophet of the Bluegrass has already prognosticated for the coming winter. Here is the way he says things will go: "There will be nineteen snows for this winter, the first falling on November 25, 1900. There will be five zero days. There will be two ice spells. In one ice will be 2½ inches thick and the other four inches thick. There will be two big sielets, also in December and one in February. There will be a great deal of rain during the winter. It will be a fine winter for the poor man, but tough on the coal man. Several days in January the thermometer will be up to 70 and 80 degrees. The first frost will fall September 20, 1900. There will be a heavy snow Christmas week."

Narrow Escape.

A few days since, it became necessary to clean out the big furnace at the electric light plant. Ad McDonald, the hard working and accommodating engineer and electrician, entered the furnace and was pushing the cinders and ashes behind him, thinking a man was shoveling it out from the front. When he reached the end of the long furnace, working by the light of a lantern, he called to the man, but was frightened to learn that none of the cinders had been removed, and he was in a prison. Realizing the fact that he would suffocate before digging his way out, he began pounding on the boiler with his lantern. Fortunately some one passing heard the noise and set to work removing the ashes. Ad clawed away in the dark at the other end, and the two soon had an air hole opened. He finally extricated himself, almost as near dead as alive. He says that next time he undertakes to clean the furnace, he will not only see that the man is at his post, but will look back occasionally to see that he is performing his duties.

In due time, however, the meeting was effected, and we let the curtain fall, while the two old friends are the happiest men in Kentucky.

Prof. Patterson and W. I. Williams served as judges at the declamatory contest in Kirksville last night. The contest was under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., the proceeds go to the India sufferers. At press hour we had not learned name of the winner.

Tempest in a Tea-Pot.

Considerable surprise was created when the daily papers announced that the office of adjutant general had been ordered checked up for the time it was filled by Gen. D. R. Collier, of this city. When seen, Gen. Collier showed canceled checks and receipts for all monies that he had received, except $1,754.41, which is in the State National Bank, at Frankfort, to his credit as adjutant general. The reason that he has not made a full settlement herefore was that he was waiting for receipts on bills paid, and the parties receiving the remittances had failed to send them in. He left for Frankfort Monday, taking his receipts and canceled checks.

Six or eight speeches of three hours duration each, is enough to make that jury at Georgetown want to hang judge, witnesses and all. It would be hard to conceive of a more trying ordeal than having to sit and listen for several days to a lot of lawyers blow off.

The bachelor editor the Cynthiana Democrat must have women on the brain. Just listen to him: "The wealthy St. Louis girl who is so tender hearted that she will not strike a match will please apply at the Democrat office. We may be able to arrange a match that will strike her."

If we had the say as to which we were to undergo, the campaign this fall or an epidemic of cholera, we would decide on the latter, by a large majority. Doctors can sometimes save you from a case of cholera, but there is no power on earth to rid the community of political gasbaggery.

The subject of a prominent lecturer is "What is man worth?" This depends altogether upon what man it is. If the lecturer will take up an average of nine out of ten of the men of today, the query may be answered in the beautiful and impressive language of the poet, "Not worth a d—n."

The Somerset Progressive Home Journal has discarded most of its heretofore lengthy name and now appears as the plain Journal. The paper is much larger and in every way a modern newspaper. We are very fond of the Journal, as it is up-to-date and full of the choicest matter that will entertain all classes of readers. We wish its excellent editors continued success.

The gourd-headed dudes in some of the cities have commenced wearing a shirt waist, made on the order of the ladies garments of the same name. We suppose the fat will strike the country towns later on, and every little piddlin' head will get one of their sister's and have "maw" make it over for him. This class of numbskulls ought to then get "maw" to hire a wet nurse to go along with them.

We are very much afraid that the arrangements for joint debates in the present campaign in Kentucky, will result in trouble. While most of the people are saying nothing now, yet they have opinions that are deep-rooted, and should two opposing orators get into a spat a general row might be brought on in which some good citizens would be injured. Every man has his opinion as to the Gobel-Tay-for matter, and in many cases we fear these opinions could be easily fanned into a blaze.

In order to get anything like a fair idea of the Georgetown trial one must read reports sent out by both sides. Each sends only that portion which helps their side of the case. Several dailies publish both questions and answers, which take up about two pages. If you are interested in the case, and have about ten hours a day to waste, read the evidence as printed, but if you have any work to do, better let the whole matter go, and let the jury do the worrying over the outcome.

A GREAT many newspapers in the state were caught by the Globe Telegraph Co., a fake institution at Lexington. The RECORD has been very fortunate in avoiding such fakes, as nearly all such communications are fired into the waste basket without much ceremony. All our foreign advertising is with patent medicine firms, and we have the best and most reliable of them. The latter sometimes make the compositor think he is afflicted with all the diseases named therein before he begins setting them, but they bring good money, and when you have good firms, they settle promptly and without dunning.

It required much pomp and parade to "notify" McKinley and Bryan that they had been nominated by their respective parties. But we presume it was very necessary to send out a delegation to look them up and tell them they were wanted. No doubt they would have never heard of the fact. Now if they had been putting forth every effort during the past four years to get the place, they might have been on the lookout for such action by the convention, but as one had been farming and the other attending only to the routine work of his office, of course they were not expecting it. Their speeches of acceptance doubtless began with the old, "Oh, this is so sudden." This tomfoolery is like unto the country paper saying "Johnny Jones has accepted a position in Sandysugar's grocery," when Johnny has been begging for the place, and offering to work for nothing.

COL. WALTON, of the Stanford Journal, seems to have been "picked up" by one of the high toned hotels in Washington. He says one of the most noted hostleries there, the Ebbitt, is a good place to stay away from. It is a well-known fact that the biggest item at such places is the price. When we were in Washington we stopped at a two dollar hotel, not from preference however, and found the fare first class. Its the same way in all cities. In Cincinnati, they have two hotels that charge four and six dollars a day, and the guests look like the soldiers did upon their return from Cuba. Its the same way in Louisville. There are hotels that charge four and five dollars a day, and we once took supper at one of them and came out and bought a glass of beer in order to get the benefit of the free lunch. You can stop at the Fifth Avenue and Willard's in Louisville and for two and three dollars get as good meals as any man could want. Style comes pretty high, but a good, square meal is far more desirable.

NEXT in importance to the position of King, comes the "Big Ike" in a country town. Every town has its "Big Ikes" and some are infested with quite a number of them. The "Big Ike" is generally possessed of a little money, and if it is offered gold-elephant security and ten per cent, he will lend you twenty-five or thirty dollars to "accommodate" you. The "Big Ike" takes several daily papers and sits on the corners in the afternoon and reads up to the edification of the loafers. He will read a few lines, and then, with an air of importance, comment thereon, generally saying, "Well, that's pretty near right, but this and so should be done." Many of the plain people cannot scratch their pants without running to the "Big Ike" to ask as to whether he should begin the job with an upward or downward stroke. There are some few in the town who actually have the impudence and disrespect to try to think and act for themselves, without the advice of the "Big Ikes," and in this they make mistake. The moment a fellow is detected in trying to act on his own judgment, the Ikes begin a warfare on him, say he's no good and don't know how to run his business. The disciples of the Big Ikes (they are many), then take up the chorus, and within a few days all sorts of mean things are being said about the fellow who has summed up enough courage to paddle his own canoe. The B. I.'s think they have been shamefully treated by not being consulted, they give the cue and their second fiddlers see that the opinion is heralded to the community. The Ikes are, as a rule, harmless, but the fellows who hang to their coat-tails, and depend upon them for every idea, even unto when to draw their breath, are to be pitied, indeed. Its distressing to see a man who depends upon another to do his thinking.

A MINISTER'S GOOD WORK.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took, no more and was entirely cured." For sale by all dealers. 1m

The people of Kentucky and other States where there is a good wheat crop are quite jubilant over the recent advance in the price of wheat. Mr. Charles B. Murray, an accurate statistician, does not give much encouragement, however, to those who expect wheat to go to one dollar. He shows that the shortage is not so much as has been reported and that in this country there are one hundred million bushels of the old crop still on hand, and in good condition. European productions will reach that of last year and the other foreign countries, excepting South America, will do as well. He shows that the production will only be twenty-five millions less than last year. The world's crop will be 2,500,000,000. He puts the world's consumption at 2,620,000,000 bushels per annum, which will give an excess this year of about five per cent.—Christian Guide.

CANCER Cannot be Cut Out or Removed with Plasters

Surgical operations and flesh-destroying plasters are useless, painful and dangerous, and besides, never cure Cancer. No matter how often a cancerous sore is removed, another comes at or near the same point, and always in a worse form. Does not this prove conclusively that Cancer is a blood disease, and that it is folly to attempt to cure this deep-seated, dangerous blood trouble by cutting or burning out the sore, which, after all, is only an outward sign of the disease—a place of exit for the poison?

Cancer runs in families through many generations, and those whose ancestors have been afflicted with it are liable at any time to be stricken with the deadly malady.

Only Blood Diseases can be Transmitted from One Generation to Another further proof that Cancer is a disease of the blood.

To cure a blood disease like this you must cure the entire blood system—remove every trace of the poison. Nothing cures Cancer effectively and permanently. S. S. S. enters the circulation, searches out and removes all taint, and stops the formation of cancerous cells. No mere tonic or ordinary blood medicine can do this. S. S. S. goes down to the very roots of the disease, and forces out the deadly poison, allowing the sore to heal naturally and permanently. S. S. S. at the same time purifies the blood and builds up the general health.

A little pimple, a harmless looking wart or mole, a lump in the breast, a cut or bruise that refuses to heal under ordinary treatment, should all be looked upon with suspicion, as this is often the beginning of a bad form of cancer.

Mrs. Sarah M. Keeling, 67 W. Main Ave., Bristol, Tenn., writes: "I am 47 years old, and for three years had suffered with a severe form of Cancer on my jaw, which I thought would never go away. I accepted their statement as true, and had given up all hope of ever being well again, when my druggist, knowing of my trouble, recommended S. S. S. After taking a few bottles of it, I began to feel much better, and the swelling went down in a short time made a complete cure. I have gained in flesh, my appetite is splendid, sleep is refreshing—in fact, am enjoying perfect health."

WALLACETON.

Born, to the wife of A. J. Wilson, on the 10th inst., a girl.

E. P. Fairchild and wife, of Berea, attended church here Sunday.... Allen Wallace was visiting friends at Lancaster from Sunday until Tuesday.

Our community was visited by a good rain and also hard wind on Monday. The former was very highly appreciated.

The church building committee of the M. E. church met last Saturday and, after very little discussion, decided unanimously to go to work at once to raise money and erect a more commodious church house than the one now here. Four hundred and fifty dollars was subscribed by the present, to which about one hundred more was added in the afternoon by friends who heard of the action of the committee. The house proposed will be a $1,200 building and is expected to be completed this fall or in the spring.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong, I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at McRoberts' Drug Store. Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Greens' August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by C C & J E Stormes.

Does it Pay to Buy Cheap.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles—"Bosch's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. KENTUCKY CROP REPORT.

Conditions of Crops August 1, 1900.

The reports from every section of the State show the crops to be in a very satisfactory condition. The short drought in early July was broken by plentiful rains all over the State by the middle of the month and in some sections there was too much moisture for wheat threshing and haying. The slight damage resulting was fully compensated by the improvement in the condition in corn, tobacco and pastures. Especially is the prospect above the average in the Bluegrass counties, as reflected in the following remarks by our reporter from Bourbon:

"With seasonable weather through August corn will average not less than forty, perhaps forty-five bushels per acre. Wheat is the best average crop in ten years. Potatoes best in twenty years. Early tobacco got a back set by drought, but seasonable weather will now insure a good quality with shrinkage of 15 per cent in weight."

In a few counties correspondents say there was too much rain in the latter part of July, and wheat in shock was injured, but in others the wheat turned out at the threshers better than was expected, and the yield will be above that indicated July 1st.

SUBSTITUTE FOR COPPER.

High Expectations Entertained for Aluminum Are About to Be Realized.

Aluminum seems about at last to realize in some degree the high expectations that were entertained for the metal when it first became possible to produce it in sufficient quantities for commercial use, says the Chicago Tribune. It was then believed its lightness and its high tensile strength in noncorrosive alloys would make it displace even iron. It was known that it was the most abundant metal in nature, every clay bank being a mine, and the prediction was made that it would revolutionize the industry of the world. The prediction was not realized even when the price per pound put it upon a parity with every useful metal excepting iron. Until quite recently it has been used chiefly for novelties and then for cooking vessels. In this last field it has displaced copper to some extent, largely because of the fact that its salts are nonpoisonous and the lightness has made it popular for military equipment. In lithography it has become the usual substitute for stone. The new use for aluminum and the one which may make it of great commercial value is as a substitute for copper. The chief use of copper is for electrical purposes, and the advance in its price, due to the concentration of the copper mines of the world in the hands of a few interests, has led to experiments with aluminum. These have been successful. The Iron Age tells of one installation in California where more than 1,500,000 pounds of aluminum have been used. Its lower conductivity is offset by the fact that much larger conductors can be used economically than when made with copper, while its lightness and strength are important features. A current of 60,000 volts was transmitted without difficulty over aluminum conductors from Sacramento to San Francisco.

The Profession of Forestry.

A comparatively new profession in America, and one that offers substantial inducements to young men of special aptitude, is that of forestry. The fact that the federal government is increasing the area of its forest preserves largely every year and that many state governments are following this laudable example suggests the ever-widening field already open to students and specialists in the science of forestry. It is now generally recognized that every large forest reservation or preserve needs for its proper care and supervision a corps of men trained for this special purpose. Germany, France and other European countries have had their schools of forestry for years, and their graduates are found in charge of forest lands in every part of the old world.—Chicago Chronicle.
